1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Group 1, package comprising closing parts having slightly curved peripheral edges connected by a hinge (see claim 11);

Group 2, package comprising closing parts that include cover parts of a sub package (see claim 12);

Group 3, a series of packages as defined in independent claim 16 (having some features in common with the Group 1 package but constructed according to a process and with an apparatus as set out in the claim);

Group 4, a series of packages as defined in independent claim 17 (having some features in common with the Group 2 package, but constructed according to a process and with an apparatus as set out in the claim);

Group 5, a series of packages as defined in independent claim 18 (having some features in common with the Group 1 package, but also constructed according to a process and with an apparatus as set out in the claim, and to have suspension means formed as claimed);

Group 6, a series of packages as defined in independent claim 19 (having some elements in common with the Group 2 package, but also constructed according to a process and with an apparatus as set out in the claim, and to have suspension means formed as claimed).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The claims are grouped as indicated above. Each independent claim and claims dependents thereon are separately grouped.

The following claim(s) are generic: No claims are generic.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The reasons are noted in paragraph 1 above. Each grouping has a special technical feature as noted.
4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jacob K. Ackun Jr. whose telephone number is (571)272-4418. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8.30AM-5.00PM.
